

Workshop / Webinar

Russia's 2018 Presidential Elections through the Regional Lenses

March 26, 2018

King's College London

Bush House (NE Wing), 9th floor meeting room

Participants: Regina Smyth, Irina Busygina, Andrey Starodubtsev, Michael Rochlitz, Masatomo Torikai, Gulnaz Sharafutdinova, Maria Sakaeva, Paul Goode, Nikola Petrov, Guzel Yusupova.

Agenda:

10am - 12:00 pm: - an overview of presidential elections: results and observations from different regions.

This event will be broadcast on Facebook Live on the King's Russia Institute Facebook page.

Led by Dr Gulnaz Sharafutdinova (King's College London) speakers will:

- Report on the key voting results from different federal districts;
- Discuss the main strategies of delivering the turnout in the regions;
- Compare the performance of new governors with those who had longer tenure;
- Explore the nature of issues brought onto the regional agenda prior to the elections